Role
The role of the Standards Board is to make recommendations to the Board of Trustees on developing the standards schemes associated with the Soil Association.

The Standards Board’s recommendations should be informed by an understanding of the impact of each standards scheme in relation to the organisation’s aims and objectives. To understand the impact of actual and proposed standards, the Standards Board should seek input from symbol holders and others with relevant practical experience and evidence, including through open consultation and by appointing Task and Finish Groups where appropriate.

Where standards schemes are wholly owned by the Soil Association, the Board of Trustees decides the standards, based on specific recommendations from the Standards Board.

For associated external standards schemes, which the Soil Association does not fully control, the Standards Board should seek to ensure that the organisation’s process for influencing associated external standards is clear. This includes clear: authorisation from the Board of Trustees for the organisation’s representatives; explicit priorities on which to focus the organisation’s influence or negotiation; and any red lines.
